Entrepreneurship in the Online World: A legal perspective

Kristen O'Keefe is a lawyer with Chislett Whitten Law. Corporate/business law is an area of practice for her. She began her work as a lawyer in 2000. She is a former Executive Director of Public Legal Information Association of Newfoundland & Labrador where she worked for five years. Kristen also worked as a Crown Attorney. She is passionate about explaining legal concepts and processes in ways that people truly understand. Community outreach and presentations are an important part of Kristen's work. She previously hosted a radio program in Nova Scotia called Legally Speaking which brought legal information and topics to listeners.
